Quit Tea is the only herbal tea, giving smokers a new option to use in combination with, or instead of, nicotine replacement, pharmaceuticals, or other alternative smoking cessation aids. One key distinction in the alternatives category, is that Quit Tea does not contain lobelia, A.K.A. “puke weed,” which many alternatives contain.

Since December 2011, Select Nutrition Distributors, a Division of United Natural Foods, Inc. (UNFI), has been rapidly increasing the retail presence of Quit Tea in health food stores and pharmacies. Quit Tea is now available in more than 70 stores in 21 states. While this is great, most customers still aren't able to buy locally. Currently, most sales are online, and that is not expected change until Quit Tea gets into mass market retail chains such as Walgreens, CVS, or Rite Aid. That is why we are so please to have Drugstore.com expanding our online presence. Here is the new Quit Tea page:
